Happy Holiday Season to All

I would like to take this moment to wish everyone within the Blake Community the happiest of Holiday Seasons. I encourage everyone to take the time share their celebrations and traditions with others within our community. Please take the opportunity to support the various groups and clubs at Blake who are participating in charitable work. Whether it's a coat drive, food collection, or toy drive please give to your ability. The lessons learned by our students during the holidays have the potential to shape their charitable behavior throughout their lives. Volunteer with your kids! The power of sharing your time and doing good works will build memories that they will carry forward. And... as Harry Chapin once advised take the time to discuss what those we choose to support with these activities are going to do tomorrow or next month when the holidays are over and the giving stops.

Principal's Corner

Carole C. Goodman

This has been an exciting fall with an incredible interest by our students in the presidential election. MCPS has decided schools will remain open on January 20, 2009, Inauguration Day; but we have modified our exam schedule to lessen the impact on students and staff who wish to attend this momentous event. The full exam schedule is included in this edition of the Blue Note but the adjustment for January 20 is that there will only be one exam given, in Period 3 followed by a make-up exam period. Students with a third period exam, who wish to attend the Inauguration, will need to bring in a note to excuse them, and work with their teacher to either take the third period exam with another period, or take it on the full make-up day on January 22. We anticipate many staff absences as well so some exams may be given by teachers covering for each other should there not be enough subs available.

This fall there was yet another wake up call for student drivers when a Damascus High School student died in a car accident. In this case, the teenagers were leaving a church function and there was no alcohol involved; however several of the teens were not wearing seatbelts. The driver, however, had his license for two weeks and was not supposed to carry other passengers who were not his relatives. This is tragic case of inexperience and misjudgment. For parents, it is a tragic reminder of having established family rules about who their child is allowed to drive with. All too often, a teenager will get in a convenient car for a lift home where there can be tragic consequences.

Our new electronic sign is finally up and running. In these tight economic times, it's important to understand that this has been a long term goal and we have been planning and saving for three years for this purchase. This represents a huge commitment from all of our student clubs, organizations and activities who made contributions, in addition to cell tower money and PTSA contributions. The goal is to have a current, attractive sign to keep the community informed of school events.

I Am So Honored

I would like to say a very heartfelt Thank You to everyone who worked on the Second Blake Book Sale. We made a little more than last year, but learned a lot more. Those folks that helped gave much much more of their time, their sweat, and their spirit than I would ever hope to ask again. We had somewhere over 6,000 pounds of books and we had to move every day. I fear trying to list everyone who helped, because I always miss someone, but it should be done. When you see these people around the school they are the heroes of the sale – please show your appreciation too.

Thanks to

Carmen Tartera, Robina Barlow, Bill Halpin, Roberta Goldberg, Clara Raju, Aleta Shannon, Barbara Werfel, Paula Cameron, Valerie Martindale, Orit & Steve Chicherio, Beth & Steve Blevins, and Maura & Dan McMullen, Mary Carter, William Knight, and Nancy Ale. To all the students of these folks who came along to help.

And also

Ms Erin Rigney and the SSL students, Principal Goodman, Building Services, Mei Hwa Chinese School, and the parents & students of the Roaring Bengals Marching Band.

Most Especially

Anyone that I have forgotten to name!

A Call to Service

While the book sale was a moderate success, it did not make as much as was projected in our budget. Additionally our membership numbers are slightly down and our cash drive/direct appeal has fallen short. We still have the Silent Auction and the After Prom Fund Raisers ahead of us but... we need your help. I am looking for anyone interested in coordinating any additional fund raisers. Finding new, interesting, and creative ideas is a challenge. I think we would consider any worthy proposal. Tell us what you would like to spearhead. Make it fun. We do try to compliment the efforts of the school organizations and not duplicate the class or extra-curricular activities. Please contact me or another member of the board with your great ideas!

Calling Dads Again

Mr. Tyrell is looking for some very special dads to step forward. We need folks who have daytime availability to help with a mentor and activities program after school. The gist is that students would have support for academics for about ½ to ¾ of an hour and then move on to pick-up athletics, games, or arts. Your input is needed as well as your presence. The concept is still in the early stages so you can help set the direction it takes. The important thing is to provide some structure to both halves of the program. We need people who can do the work, not just ideas. Please contact me or Mr. Tyrell with your interest.

In the Spirit of Giving

It's never too early to start collecting items for the PTSA's annual Silent Auction. As you are out and about doing your holiday shopping please keep the auction in mind. Great deals are out there. When they offer that extra free gift that you might not need - set it aside for the auction. Many businesses clear out their inventory at the end of the year. These items can be added to the basket we make to create very interesting auction items. When Aunt Hattie sends you those big pink bunny pajamas that you will never wear set them aside for the auction. Now when I wrote a similar request last year someone said so that's all you want? Of course not, we need all kinds of interesting new (no used unless they are collectibles) items to make the auction work. Get creative and keep looking. Money raised supports PTSA Scholarships, the annual PTSA gift to the school, and other operating items. Contact Laura Miliszauskas at lmiliszauskas@twgemail.com with your items.

Happy Holidays,

Jack Goble, President

We no longer have to send students down to the road in inclement weather to change the sign.

Our NEC Open House, for parents of prospective incoming ninth graders and their parents, was a very well-attended, productive and positive evening. I had the opportunity to speak to many parents and students about Blake High School and was pleased by their positive impressions and excellent questions. It's a very energizing evening for staff, current Blake students and parents who participated in the event as it's a wonderful opportunity to share what makes us so proud. I spoke to many parents of private school and magnet school students, in addition to the many, many from our five feeder middle schools. The most asked question of the evening was; "If Blake is not our base area, how can my child get in?"

It's hard to believe but before long the first semester will be coming to a close. Information on final exam schedules, in addition to information about Inauguration Day, is included in this month's Blue Note. This information is particularly important for parents of 9th graders, as final exam schedules, procedures and expectations are very specific and may be very different from what they were used to in middle school. We will be sending home a packet for all students, but for 9th graders it needs to be reinforced that they need to take this time seriously and do their very best. Final exams are two hours in duration and given in math, science, foreign language, social studies, English and some technology classes. Students are only expected to report to school when they have an exam. Final exams count for 25% of the semester grade and it is the semester grade that appears on student transcripts, and is seen by colleges.

We have a great number of resources that both students and parents can tap into to assist in monitoring student progress and success. Edline is an excellent source of information and should be monitored by both students and parents on a regular basis. ACE, or Academic Commitment to Excellence, is a lunchtime program designed to support students. National Honor Society tutors work with students in areas of need under the supervision of Mrs. Shepherd. Students who take advantage of this find it is a huge help. Older, successful students are a great source of support to younger students. We also have upper level students who serve as "Educorps" members in classes. These students receive credit and are trained as teaching assistants to work with students in the classroom. Feedback has been outstanding on this program. We are also in the process of reviving mentoring programs that are tailored to student success.

Teachers are available four days a week at lunch to work with students, reserving the fifth day as teacher

"Professional Learning Community" time to do team planning in like subjects and look at common assessments and student progress and success. On Tuesday and Thursdays, coinciding with activity bus days, the media center is open after school and there is an organized homework help. There are many other less formal ways teachers work with students but the key thing is students taking advantage of the study groups, review sessions and one-on-one help teachers go above and beyond to provide. Students who are struggling, but do not take advantage of these opportunities truly have no excuse. Academic assistance at lunchtime is one of the main reasons we went to one lunch period and are committed to having it continue.

Regardless of what grade your child is in, or what their plans are after high school, please take time to look at our Career Center website at:

<http://www.mcps.k12.md.us/schools/blakehs/staff/moor ek/index.htm>

Mrs. Kathy Moore, our College and Career Information Coordinator, does a fantastic job with this up-to-the-minute resource, chock full of information all students and parents need. For parents of special needs students, this is particularly important as the information about accommodations for SAT is there for parents as well as multiple other sources of information. We are so fortunate to have Mrs. Moore and her incredible expertise to assist our families on planning for life after high school.

On another important note, we have outstanding health room support in our school nurse Ms. Janeane Marks and our health technician Ms. Darlene Battle. Please consider them resources when dealing with student health issues. They are extremely knowledgeable and supportive of our students. They need to be in the loop on health issues, as well as school counselors. Our school counseling team can offer a wide range of resource supports, particularly when students have issues that warrant socio-emotional support. When communicating with teachers about concerns, keep the grade level administrator, health room personnel and school counselor in the loop, as valued members of the team who work so hard to support our students.

The last important calendar item is that our Graduation date for the Class of 2009 has been set; mark your calendars for Wednesday, June 10, 2009 at 10:00 a.m. at DAR Constitution Hall.

I wish you and your family a healthy, safe and happy holiday season and look forward to 2009 at Blake High School.

Calling All Blake Business Owners

Have you seen the winning After Prom tee shirt from last year? On a daily basis, one can see the wonderfully designed Black shirt with the sponsors' names on the back in and around the community. The Blake After Prom committee is again looking for one or multiple sponsors to cover the costs of this shirt worn by more than 500 students.

In the spring, we will hold a contest for students to submit their design for the front of the shirt. The sponsors' names will be printed on the back of the shirt. For more details on how you can help support this walking advertisement, contact Dawn Borchers at dborchers@mac.com.

SAT Prep Class at Blake

Revolution Prep (a for-profit company) is offering SAT prep classes at Blake, in the spring leading up to the March and May SAT. We offer a 200-point score improvement guarantee, and offer unlimited scholarships to students with financial needs. We also offer a $250 Educator's Discount for children of faculty or staff members at Blake or any PTSA parents. For more info, contact bridget@revolutionprep.com (202) 286-4940

The Musical Theatre Company will present Lerner and Loewe's wonderful romantic musical, BRIGADOON, on January 29 and 30 and February 5 and 6 at 7:30 pm in the Auditorium.

BRIGADOON is the romantic love story about Tommy Albright and Fiona MacLaren who meet in a fantasy world called Brigadoon. Tommy goes on a hunting trip with his friend Jeff in Scotland, and the two of them lose themselves in the Highlands. They find themselves at a bridge that goes over a hill to a small village. Little do they realize that when they go over that bridge that they will travel back in time to the 16th Century and a Scots village that comes into being only thru the event of a periodic miracle.

Tommy meets the lovely Fiona and they both fall in love. Their romance is disrupted when a young Scot, Harry Beaton, who feels dejection at not being able to marry Fiona's sister, Jean. When he tries to escape Brigadoon to the modern world over the bridge, he puts the entire miracle and the lives of all the villagers in Brigadoon in jeopardy.

This show features some of the greatest Broadway music of all time: "The Heather on the Hill," "Waitin' for My Dearie," "Go Home with Bonnie Jean," and more.

The show features David Tuttle as Tommy and Graham Flessas as Jeff, and Fiona is played by Sarah Lomke and Ashley Larkin in our two double casts. Danielle Barlow and Becky Joiner will play the comical Meg, Uche Ogodi will play Mr. Lundie and Jacob Perry sings Charlie Darylmples while Chris Hall portrays Harry Beaton.

Ashley Haymaker with help from Brittany Stuart will choreograph. The tech is under the direction of Tina Wilbur, Graham Flessas and Mr. John Ovington. Michael D'Anna directs his third show of the season following hit presentations of Picasso at the Lapin Agile and Hamlet. Don't miss what should be a wonderful show!

- Prepare for the SAT® with a plan generated by their PSAT/NMSQT results
- Explore a personalized list of colleges to consider
- Use MyRoad to take a personality test and discover majors and careers that fit their interests

Students who took the PSAT in October will receive an access code when the score reports are returned in December, look out for more information and college planning when it arrives!

Pennies for Patients

Blake SGA will be participating in the annual Pennies for Patients campaign for the Leukimia and Lymphoma Society, February 2-20. This year's events for the cause include a Bengal Ball tournament February 11, a dance February 14, and a restaurant night, as well as the ongoing Pennies for Patients coin collection. All event proceeds will go directly to the Leukimia and Lymphoma Society.

Last year, Blake took second place in the county raising over $5,000. This year, the SGA seeks your support in raising even more money and awareness for the blood cancer research and affected families that LLS sponsors. For more details about online donations and the Pennies for Patients campaign, please visit www.blakesga.org.

Blake Beat Named #1 Student Newspaper in Maryland

The Maryland Scholastic Press Association has announced that The Blake Beat has won the Marylander Award as the best high school newspaper in the state for schools with enrollment greater than 1200 students, in publications judged for issues during the 2007-2008 school year. This is the first time The Beat has won the Marylander Award.

The 2007-2008 Blake Beat staff was led by Editors-in-Chief Maya Barlev (now at Haverford) and James Lanning (New York University). Other key editors included Associate Editors Sarah Citrenbaum (George Washington University), Kirsty Groff (University of Maryland), Julia Kraut (study in Israel at the Interdisciplinary Center of Herzliya), Anjalee Martin (Wellesley College), Kelly Murphy (Ithaca College) and Amey Owen (Boston University); and Director of Photography Jackie Ibrahim (George Mason University).

MSPA, run through the School of Journalism at the University of Maryland College Park, named The Blake Beat as the second-best newspaper in the state in 2005-2006 and 2006-2007. The Blake Beat is advised by journalism teacher Kevin Keegan.

Mock SAT and Mock ACT Opportunity—Save the date!

Blake High School will administer a Mock SAT or Mock ACT to all 11th grade students during the morning of Friday, February 27 beginning at 7:30 AM. This date is a half day for all MCPS schools. 11th grade students will take a released version of the SAT or ACT during the morning hours instead of attending regular classes before they are dismissed at 11:40 AM. Students can choose whether to take the Mock SAT or Mock ACT, and there is no cost to take the full-length practice test! In addition, students will receive a score report two weeks after they take the test that explains their score on all sections of the test. In March, Blake will also host a parent information meeting where a Studyworks representative will explain the Mock SAT and Mock ACT test scores to students and parents. Your 11th grade student only needs to arrive to school on time on Friday, February 27 to take the test!

Kaylene Lyons was a member of the Maryland 4-H team that traveled to Louisville KY, November 7th -9th, to compete in the North American International Livestock Exposition (NAILE) Dairy Quiz Bowl. Kaylene's written exam placed her in the top 10 overall and the Maryland team, made up of 4 youth ages 14-18, finished 7th nationally. Kaylene has been raising dairy goats for the past 7 years and she also teaches a 4-H program at an elementary school.

Alexander Blocker has been selected to serve as a page for the Maryland General Assembly in Annapolis for two weeks, either with the House of Delegates or the State Senate. The student page program is designed to interest youth in state government, specifically in the proceedings of the legislature, increase participation in government by students, foster leadership among youth, and to provide students with worthwhile experiences in state government. It is open to seniors. Each page will serve two nonconsecutive weeks.

Bake Sale Wins!

A very big THANK YOU to all the Blake parents & students who baked for Blake! The Election Day Bake sale turned out some awesome "eats" for our community of voters. And boy, did they dig in! We raised over $1300 towards this year's After-Prom!

The team spirit came alive in this election with the support of student volunteers, parents, Carole Goodman, SSL coordinators --Erinn Rigney & Dustin Jeter, SADD sponsors- Jennifer Sninski & Marcus Wiggins, Safeway(Cloverly), Starbucks (Olney), and The Fractured Prune. We are especially proud of our many student volunteers who staffed the tables all day.

Trays or containers that were not disposable can be picked up in the main office. If you are still looking for a pan, plate, or tray please contact Leigh Leslie, lleslie@umd.edu, or Nancy Murray, 301-989-2563. Many thanks to all!

Attention 10th Grade Parents!

The second 10th grade parent night will be on December 4th. The meeting will take place in the Blake Amphitheatre from 7:00-8:30. The following topics will be discussed: the 2009-2010 registration process; Blake Academies; first semester final exam schedule; and loss of credit policy.

We hope all 10th grade parents can come to the meeting and network with other parents.

Accreditation for Growth (AFG) Update

We continue to meet in action teams on a monthly basis. This past month, teams analyzed the parent and student survey data according to their assigned standard. Next, groups will begin to write questions that address each indicator based on what they learned from the surveys. Team members will use these questions to conduct interviews and gather evidence for each of the indicators. The final step for each team is to write the standard report and explain how Blake High School meets standard based on the evidence they have collected. We are very excited that students, parents, and staff are members of these action teams—we are learning much from each other!

In addition, the planning team is meeting on a monthly basis. In November, we finalized the mission statement based on the feedback of staff, students, and parents. We are now writing our Core Beliefs and a Profile of a Blake High School Graduate using ideas from staff, students, and parents. These documents will serve as the checkpoint when we examine the standards reports from each action team. The findings of the report should reflect the ideals presented in the mission, core beliefs, and the profile of a graduate.

Although the self-assessment year requires time and considerable introspection, we are finding that it is leading us to make improvements that will improve the many components that affect student performance. –
